STUDENT-ATHLETES WIN BIG!
AT UNIQUE EVENT

IT PAYS TO BE SMART!

A VERY SPECIAL EVENT

On September 20th, 2009 a very special group of student-athletes participated in a very special event. The Academic All West Camp, brainchild of Arizona hoops supporter Ron Coleman, provided a very special day of celebration, recognition, and of course, learning. The goal: to show the participants how to maximize the opportunities available to themselves as players that excel on the court AND in the classroom.

TIMES

SCHEDULE

Games were played in the morning, followed by a lunch break, and special guest speakers who covered all aspects of the recruiting landscape available for these top student-athletes. Then the games continued for the rest of the afternoon.

TALENT

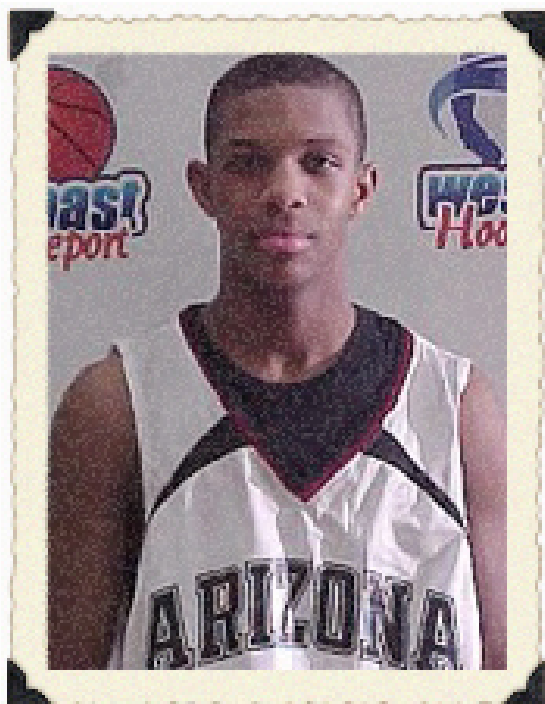

UPPERCLASSMEN

Collin Woods

MVP

While the usual suspects all played well, it was Collin Woods out of Horizon HS was azhoopsreport.com's unanimous choice as the MVP for the upperclassmen at this year's Fall Academic All-West Camp. Collin played extremely well by showing the total package all day long. Mr. Woods shot the ball well, definitely took the ball to the basket very well while showing that he's also very athletic. "I'm pleased with where my game is right now but I'm not content at all" says the 6'2 cat quick Woods, "I feel much more sure and confident in my game".

While Collin took home the MVP Tyler Russell the 6'1 jr guard out of Millinium wasn't far behind. Tyler put on a show throughout most of the day by displaying exceptional ball handling ability, quickness and sticking the mid and long shot consistently. Tyler Russell is that kid that has been somewhat over looked but I have a funny feeling that that's probably not going to be the case from this point on.

DEMITRIUS BAYLARK

MVP

Last year at this time, I attended a local AAU tournament to go watch the (PTBr) Jahii Carson. Once I got into the gym and grabbed a seat I remember saying to myself, who is this long, thin, wiry kid they have matched up against Jahii Carson? Once the ball was tipped and the game began, I was very surprised and almost in awe of the skills, heart, ability and athleticism of this young man, That young man was doing what I haven't seen any guard from Arizona do up until that time which was stand up to and battle with Jahii Carson mano emano, with no fear.

While this young PTBr in training was an incoming freshman, and had one of the better performances that I had seen out of any player regardless of grade/class last fall, the wily young vet Jahii Carson eventually got the better of the deal but immediately after that game I remember saying to a fellow scout "who ever that kid is, he's got a very bright future in the game of basketball.", That player of course, was Demitrius Baylark. Demitrius played excellent all day long in this year's Fall Academic All-West Camp. If he wasn't locking up on "D", he was busy making things happen on the offensive end. Whether setting up a teammate with a nice pass or taking the ball to the basket and finishing with a layup or dunk.

UNDERCLASSMEN

Demitius Baylark was putting in work! This young man has high major written all over him and he's starting to receive local, regional and national recognition which he very much so deserves. He's athletic, quick, fast, is a very accurate mid range and long range shooter, has a great handle, a lock down defender and oh yeah, he's a lefty. Look for winning tournament/camp MVP's to become the norm for this young fella as his career grows and develops.

Ron Coleman has done such a good job with this event, that the staff here at azhoopsreport.com feel that this event is a must attend event for players that have the grades. It is also really good for those parents who would like to know more information about the NCAA's academic requirements. Most of all we love to see the focus shift to the "Student" side of the Student-athlete label. Let's face it, so many times we get caught up in just the play behind the player when in fact, if he or she doesn't make the grade it's all for naught. So hats off to Ron Coleman for putting together such a great event and kudos to ALL of the players for their great accomplishments, on the court, and in the classroom. Stay logged on to azhoopsreport.com for information on future Ron Coleman events.
